Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions from 37 to 40.

Besides its beauty, the countryside of Britain is well known for many contrasts: its bare mountains and moorland, its lakes, rivers and woods, and its long, often wild coastline. National parks which are protected from development by the government have the most beautiful and picturesque scenery. British people often associate the countryside with farmland, open spaces like fields of wheat and barley, green fields enclosed by hedges or stone walls in which cows or sheep are raised. Most farmland is now owned by individual people or independent companies. However, the government has built a network of public footpaths across the farmland.

Many British people enjoy the peace and relaxation of life in the countryside where they can spend their free time walking, cycling, or going for a picnic or a pub lunch. In summer they can pick strawberries and other fruit in fruit farms. Nowadays, few rural people work on farms. Many of them commute to work in towns. Many others wish to live in the countryside so that they would have a better and healthier lifestyle.

Question 37. What is the main purpose of the passage?

- A. To describe the diverse natural characteristics and the cultural appreciation of the British countryside.
- B. To discuss the reasons why many British people are moving from towns to the countryside.
- C. To detail the government's role in creating national parks and public footpaths.
- D. To explain the economic importance of farming in modern Britain.

Question 38. What can people do in the countryside during the summer?

- A. Milk cows
- B. Take photos
- C. Go hiking
- D. Pick fruits

Question 39. The word "bare" in the first paragraph is OPPOSITE in meaning to _____

- A. rough
- B. dry
- C. empty
- D. covered

Question 40. According to the passage, which statement is NOT true about the British countryside or its people?

- A. The landscape includes contrasting features.
- B. National parks are protected by the government to preserve their beauty.
- C. Many people who live in rural areas now work on farms.
- D. People enjoy visiting the countryside for activities like walking, cycling, and pub lunches.

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions from 33 to 36.

Besides its beauty, the countryside of Britain is well known for many contrasts: its bare mountains and moorland, its lakes, rivers and woods, and its long, often wild coastline. National parks which are protected from development by the government have the most beautiful and picturesque scenery. British people often associate the countryside with farmland, open spaces like fields of wheat and barley, green fields enclosed by hedges or stone walls in which cows or sheep are raised. Most farmland is now owned by individual people or independent companies. However, the government has built a network of public footpaths across the farmland.

Many British people enjoy the peace and relaxation of life in the countryside where they can spend their free time walking, cycling, or going for a picnic or a pub lunch. In summer they can pick strawberries and other fruit in fruit farms. Nowadays, few rural people work on farms. Many of them commute to work in towns. Many others wish to live in the countryside so that they would have a better and healthier lifestyle.

Question 33. What can people do in the countryside during the summer?

A. Take photos

B. Go hiking

C. Pick fruits

D. Milk cows

Question 34. According to the passage, which statement is NOT true about the British countryside or its people?

- B. The landscape includes contrasting features.
- C. People enjoy visiting the countryside for activities like walking, cycling, and pub lunches.
- D. Many people who live in rural areas now work on farms.

Question 35. What is the main purpose of the passage?

- A. To discuss the reasons why many British people are moving from towns to the countryside.
- B. To describe the diverse natural characteristics and the cultural appreciation of the British countryside.
- C. To explain the economic importance of farming in modern Britain.
- D. To detail the government's role in creating national parks and public footpaths.
