Task 2. Read the passage and do the following tasks. (1.25 pts)

When learning a new language, it's important to communicate with native speakers. This helps you pick up their pronunciation and get used to different accents. Sometimes, you might figure out what a word means from the context. If you aren't sure, don't hesitate to look up the word in a dictionary or even translate it back to your own language to get a clue.

But remember that everyone may make mistakes when learning something new! In fact, making mistakes is an important part of the learning process. It shows you where you need to focus. Don't be afraid to practise with native speakers, even if you have difficulty expressing yourself. They will likely appreciate your efforts and be happy to give you tips.

Learning a new language can be a journey with ups and downs. It's a process that requires patience, practice, and perseverance. It's not about perfection, but progress. Keep communicating, keep making mistakes, and keep learning and our efforts will pay off. Conversations in your new tongue will become second nature, and you'll surprise yourself with your confidence.
