Question 28.

- A. However B. Although C. Therefore D. Moreover

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on the answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions from 29 to 32 (1.0 point).

A smart board is an interactive whiteboard. It can be connected to one or more laptops, PCs, tablets, or other electronic devices. Smart boards are extremely useful in a classroom because they can engage students, provide interactive opportunities that a traditional whiteboard, blackboard or flip chart can't, and can also develop students' computer skills along with their English skills.

Smart boards also have touch-screen technology so you do not actually need a computer to access the basic functionality. You can write on a smart board with special pens which are usually provided with the board, and anything written on the board can be saved for future reference, or printed out. It is great, for example, if you are doing a brainstorming session or a mind map with your classmates and you want to keep a record of it.

If you don't want to draw with the pens, you can use a keyboard and type onto a programme such as Word, and have it appear on the screen for everyone to see. This is great if you are doing an exercise with your class and you want everyone to be able to see the answers during the checking stage. You can also run PowerPoint presentations on an interactive whiteboard. These can sometimes be great for grammar or vocabulary presentations and the advantage of them is that students can make contributions.

If you have the Internet access, you can access websites and put them onto a white board. This is great in an English classroom if you have online quizzes or games you want to use. Students can actually come up to the board and select their answers. This involves them directly in the board work, which they usually love. You can also run video clips or sound files from the Internet, or some which are saved on your computer.

In short, a smart board can make the lessons more varied, and can give students a more active role in the lesson.

Question 29. Smart board which has touch-screen technology is great because _____.

- A. you can write on it, save information, or print it later
B. you do not need anything to write on it
C. you can use a keyboard and type onto a program such as Word
D. you can do a brainstorming session or a mind map with your classmates

Question 30. It is great for you to run Word or PowerPoint on a smart board because _____.

- A. you can see the answers before the checking stage
B. it can be used for grammar or vocabulary presentations
C. you don't need to draw with the pens
D. everyone can see your presentations and take part in them

Question 31. With the Internet access, the smart board is a wonderful tool for education because _____.

- A. students can use write on a smart board with special pens
B. we can have multimedia lessons and more contributions from students
C. students can download video clips or sound files from the Internet
D. we can use anything that is saved on our computer

Question 32. All of the following are true about a smart board EXCEPT _____.

- A. the lessons are more diverse, and students are more active
B. anything written on the board can be saved for future reference
C. you do not actually need a computer to access the basic functionality

D. it develops students' English skills but not computer ones

Question 28.

- A. However B. Moreover C. Although D. Therefore

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on the answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions from 29 to 32 (1.0 point).

A smart board is an interactive whiteboard. It can be connected to one or more laptops, PCs, tablets, or other electronic devices. Smart boards are extremely useful in a classroom because they can engage students, provide interactive opportunities that a traditional whiteboard, blackboard or flip chart can't, and can also develop students' computer skills along with their English skills.

Smart boards also have touch-screen technology so you do not actually need a computer to access the basic functionality. You can write on a smart board with special pens which are usually provided with the board, and anything written on the board can be saved for future reference, or printed out. It is great, for example, if you are doing a brainstorming session or a mind map with your classmates and you want to keep a record of it.

If you don't want to draw with the pens, you can use a keyboard and type onto a programme such as Word, and have it appear on the screen for everyone to see. This is great if you are doing an exercise with your class and you want everyone to be able to see the answers during the checking stage. You can also run PowerPoint presentations on an interactive whiteboard. These can sometimes be great for grammar or vocabulary presentations and the advantage of them is that students can make contributions.

If you have the Internet access, you can access websites and put them onto a white board. This is great in an English classroom if you have online quizzes or games you want to use. Students can actually come up to the board and select their answers. This involves them directly in the board work, which they usually love. You can also run video clips or sound files from the Internet, or some which are saved on your computer.

In short, a smart board can make the lessons more varied, and can give students a more active role in the lesson.

Question 29. Smart board which has touch-screen technology is great because _____.

- A. you can use a keyboard and type onto a program such as Word
B. you do not need anything to write on it

- A. Although B. Moreover C. Therefore D. However

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on the answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions from 29 to 32 (1.0 point).

A smart board is an interactive whiteboard. It can be connected to one or more laptops, PCs, tablets, or other electronic devices. Smart boards are extremely useful in a classroom because they can engage students, provide interactive opportunities that a traditional whiteboard, blackboard or flip chart can't, and can also develop students' computer skills along with their English skills.

Smart boards also have touch-screen technology so you do not actually need a computer to access the basic functionality. You can write on a smart board with special pens which are usually provided with the board, and anything written on the board can be saved for future reference, or printed out. It is great, for example, if you are doing a brainstorming session or a mind map with your classmates and you want to keep a record of it.

If you don't want to draw with the pens, you can use a keyboard and type onto a programme such as Word, and have it appear on the screen for everyone to see. This is great if you are doing an exercise with your class and you want everyone to be able to see the answers during the checking stage. You can also run PowerPoint presentations on an interactive whiteboard. These can sometimes be great for grammar or vocabulary presentations and the advantage of them is that students can make contributions.

If you have the Internet access, you can access websites and put them onto a white board. This is great in an English classroom if you have online quizzes or games you want to use. Students can actually come up to the board and select their answers. This involves them directly in the board work, which they usually love. You can also run video clips or sound files from the Internet, or some which are saved on your computer.

In short, a smart board can make the lessons more varied, and can give students a more active role in the lesson.

Question 29. Smart board which has touch-screen technology is great because _____.

- A. you can do a brainstorming session or a mind map with your classmates
B. you can write on it, save information, or print it later
C. you can use a keyboard and type onto a program such as Word
D. you do not need anything to write on it

Question 30. It is great for you to run Word or PowerPoint on a smart board because _____.
