Vietnamese water puppetry is a special folk art. People say, "If you don't see a water puppet show, you haven't really visited Vietnam." This is why water puppetry is very popular for tourists in Vietnam. Watching this show can help you relax and refresh your minds with unforgettable moments.

During the shows, you can only see the puppets and a small folk band of about 7 people; the puppeteers, or people who move the puppets, stand behind a curtain in a pool. All puppets are made of fig wood which works well with water. The themes of the shows are very familiar to Vietnamese people. They focus on the daily life of farmers and other important parts of Vietnamese culture.

Many people who don't speak Vietnamese still enjoy water puppetry because the puppets show Vietnamese life and culture through their actions. The most popular place to see water puppetry in Vietnam is Thang Long Water Puppet Theatre, near Hoan Kiem Lake in Hanoi.
