PART 1: Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C or D to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

Age is one big reason for the natural gap between generations. However, the major issue arises due to the mental gap in terms of thinking patterns and current trends. Children believe that they are grown-ups and it is high time for them to be independent. This helps them to gain more self-esteem.

On the whole, both parents and their children do not see things from the standpoints of each other. Thus, misunderstanding is a great cause for the formation of the generation gap. They talk about some issues that can cause tension between teenagers and parents: homework, sibling fights, boundaries and trust. Some teenagers feel their parents need to show more trust and give them more independence, but they also know that parents are mostly just concerned for their safety.

The ages between parents and their children are often large enough that they experienced their most impressionable years in a different culture than each other. Adolescence is often the time when people are most influenced by the society around them as our world keeps developing and changing, things rarely stay the same, causing generation gaps between parents and their children.
