READING

Read the passage and choose the answer that best suit each blank.

There are many things in life which you have to do whether you like it or not. One of such things is household chores. It is what someone in the family (1)_____ to do every day in spite of his or her wish and desire. You can hardly find a person who doesn't like (2)_____, delicious food, clean and tidy clothes. But these things need somebody's attention and doing them. It's called housework.

I think it is not a bad idea to (3)_____ household duties. If every (4)_____ of the family does his bit about the housework, it isn't difficult or boring and proves the proverb: "Many hands make light work". For example, the children should keep their own rooms tidy, make their beds, lay the table for meals, clear away the dishes and wash up. The mother could then concentrate on the more specialized jobs (5)_____ cooking, ironing, mending, and shopping. The father should do more difficult physical work. This is an ideal variant for me how to keep house.

Climate scientists from the University of Sydney in Australia say tourism causes over 8 per cent of greenhouse gasses. They also say that this figure will continue to increase because the tourism industry is growing. Their study looked at the carbon footprint of many different areas of tourism. It studied the CO2 emissions from transport, events, hotels, restaurants and shopping. It even researched the carbon emissions from producing souvenirs. The researchers spent 18 months conducting the research. They included the tourist activities of 189 countries. Researcher Dr Arunima Malik said her team analyzed the impact on the environment of over one million businesses involved in tourism.

The researchers said domestic travel was a bigger cause of CO2 emissions than international or business travel. Air travel was the largest part of tourism's footprint. The researchers said flying would continue to increase global emissions as more people in the world become richer. The countries causing the most harm were the biggest and richest nations. The USA, China, India and Germany had the largest tourism carbon footprints. Their carbon emissions will continue to increase as more of their citizens travel. The researchers encouraged holiday-makers and travelers to try and reduce their carbon footprint when on vacation so their travel causes less harm to the planet.
